DEMOCRATIC WATERLOO. Town of Killingdy Gives Them Worst Defeat in History-Progressives Did

It-Town Goes No License. Democratic candidates were about totally annihilated in the political rev-olution that Killingly voters enacted at the polls Monday. Out of a whole list of democratic candidates only two were elected, George M. Pilling and Al-cott D. Sayles, both constables. The party lost all of its candidates for se-lectmen and will not be represented on the board during the coming year and all other candidates on the list. The all other candidates on the list. The party has never been so badly defeated in the history of Killingly.

This was due to the triumphant rise of the progressive party, the candidates of which will replace them on the various boards of the town. The progressives get two out of the board of five selectmen and elected other ofof five selectmen and elected other of-ficers as indicated by stars in the de-tailed vote. Their victory came as a great surprise and knocks the demo-cratic and republican leaders off their feet. The progressives cast 239 votes against 283 for the republicans and 188 for the democrats. Elation does not begin to describe the feelings of the progressives Monday night and they progressives Monday night and they celebrated by spending some of their good money for a serenade here by the East Killingly drum corps led by Another big surprise in Monday's election was on the license question, election was on the license question, Killingly changing from license to no-license after three years by a vote of 591 to 562. This also proved a shock to a great many of the voters who had figured the town to remain in the license column. The town tickets were the worst split in years and eight hours were required to conclude the work of the counters. Alcott D. Henry Dubois Breaks Neck by Fall Bernier Case Before Supreme Court -Town Meeting Tables Petition for Property Reassessment.

When presented before Justice Ran dolph H. Chandler in the town of Thompson, Monday morning. George Arsenault, alias George Snow, was bound over to await trial at the su perior court for having taken with out permission of the owner a horse harness and wagen, the property of Charles E. Austin, who has a store at North Grosvenordale.

Arsenault took the rig from near the Arcade building in this city Sat-urday evening and drove toward Thompson. The loss of the rig was quickly discovered and Arsenault was apprehended in the vicinity of the Grosvenordales.

ARGUMENTS IN BERNIER CASE To be Made Before the Supreme Court in Hartford Today.

Attorneys Charles L. Torrey, Charles E. Searls, Ernest C. Morse and Erle H. Johnson, all of this city are in Hartford today for the argument of the case of Jeseph George Bernitr, Admr., vs. the Woodstock Agricul-Admr., vs. the Woodstock Agricul-tural society before the supreme court. This case grows out of the death of George Bernier, Jr., in the balloon ac-cident at the Woodstock fair in Sep-tember, 1913. The decision in the superior court for Windham county after the trial of the case last spring was favorable to the defendant society, so an appeal was taken by the plantiff. The case is the second on the calendar for today.

Interest in Killingly No-License Vote. The swinging of Killingly into the no-license column Monday, after three years of license was noted with interest by the liquor dealers of this city, as Danielson and Dayville are big producers of business in their line during no-license years in the southern border town. The restrictions for making shipments into Killingly are more stringent than formerly, but no enough so to prevent the handling of the traffic.

Home from North Dakota.

Serelia Rhodes and Frank Foise two Thompson boys and formerly Tourtellotte Memorial High school students, have returned to that town after having been in North Dakota where they went to engage in harvest-ing. They had a pleasant experience, put in some hard work, and got much benefit out of the trip.

Women Permitted to Vote Nothing of interest developed in Monday's election over the matter of allowing women who were made vot-ers in 1893, and whose names had been removed from the voting list particl-pating in the election. Only a few of the group appeared and these were of the group appeared and these were permitted to vote.

procedure of the meeting and took away town reports to study when they went to their homes. Both girls and made up the party of Students.

Henry Dubois, 28, died at the Day Kimball hospital just after four o'clock Monday afternoon as the result of having suffered a broken neck Satur-day afternoon. His death came as a great surprise to his friends, as when he was first injured the case was re-garded as a trivial one. Dubois was in Smith's saloon on South Main street Saturday afternoon and was leaning against a radiator, when he slipped and fell to the floor. It was noted that he was dazed, but his condition was not regarded as serious. Later he was removed to his home, a short distance away, and Dr. Edward F. Perry was summoned. The physician found that Dubois was seriouslp injured—that his neck was broken-and he ordered him
